

A woman with dark hair, wearing a blue turtleneck sweater, is looking upwards and to the right. She is holding a glowing fiber optic cable that forms a loop in front of her. The background is a server room with blue lighting and racks of equipment.

WORKFORCE

of Specialists

We can staff any and all requirements, from copper to cable, wire line to wireless, central office to satellite. The Ajilon Communications' team comprises functional specialists and experts in all disciplines of our industry, experienced in every current technology and are constantly learning about those that are emerging. We always seek to secure new skill sets in our own management team. We work to completely understand your needs so that we can assist you on projects in progress today and those planned for tomorrow.

- Telecommunications & Converging Technologies
- Engineering*
- Call Centers and Business Offices
- Management
- Training
- Billing

* In some states, due to state laws, we provide engineering services by partnering with locally licensed engineering firms.